THE MISSION OF TOP GUN PDR TRAINING

It is the mission of Top Gun PDR Training to provide students with high quality and highly individualized instruction to develop and enhance the demanding skills required for success in the Paintless Dent Repair (PDR) field. The Beginning PDR Training program will provide students with specific challenges encountered in the field and training about how to best overcome and master these challenges. The Advanced PDR Training program will provide those already applying PDR skills in the industry with finely honed skills to enhance their performance. Top Gun PDR Training is an outgrowth of years of experience perfecting the art, craft, and science of PDR. It is our goal to impart a further appreciation and greater respect for the skills required to successfully perform in a demanding field, and, through a highly successful step-by-step program of instruction, permit the student to acquire necessary knowledge and skills.

It is the further goal of Top Gun PDR Training to thereby enhance the field of PDR generally and upgrade the skills and outcomes associated with high expectations and fine performance.

PROGRAMS OF INSTRUCTION

There are three programs at Top Gun PDR Training. The Beginning PDR Training course consists of 84 hours over two weeks of instruction. The Advanced PDR Training course consists of 40 hours over one week of instruction. The PDR Lab consists of 80 hours of closely supervised lab experiences.

Because of the owner/instructor's strong preference, teaching style, and practical demand experience, the ratio of instructor to students is intended to almost exclusively be one-to-one.

STUDENT SERVICES

The training at Top Gun PDR Training is almost exclusively one-on-one, and very intensive. A considerable amount of hands on training is integrated into the program. There are 3 basic videos available at the school that are available to be watched by the student after class. In addition there is a PDR forum where PDR techs discuss industry related issues at www.doording.com. All students are encouraged to sign up and participate in this valuable forum.

Since PDR is a relatively new process, there are no textbooks or other sources of information traditionally available for other vocational courses. Therefore we do not offer student services in the traditional sense of a college or other vocational programs. There are no other student services offered by Top Gun PDR Training other than those listed in the above paragraph.

Marty is a recognized expert and specialist in PDR repair, having instructed in various prior settings and materially contributed to major PDR processes, methods, and techniques employed in the field.

SCHEDULE OF FEES

Tuition:

Beginning PDR Training (84 hrs)	$6,700
Advanced PDR Training (40 hrs)	$3,400
PDR Lab (80 hrs)	$6,700

Equipment:

Top Gun PDR Training does not recommend specific tools or sell tools. It has no business relationship with a manufacturer to gain a commission for referring customers.

Advanced PDR Training students will typically already own their tools of the trade. However, Beginning PDR Training students typically do not own their tools.

Top Gun PDR Training will offer advice about beginning tool set-ups. There are about six major manufacturers and perhaps 10 to 12 tools that are useful. The student should be prepared to spend approximately $1,600 to $1,900 for the necessary tool set. Otherwise, all necessary equipment is provided by Top Gun PDR Training.

Supplies and Materials:

There are no other supplies or materials needed for a program other than a single large notebook. It is typical that students will take many notes as they proceed through a program.

Application:

Though a completed application is required for admission and student record purposes, there is no application or registration fee. Enrollment determinations are almost exclusively based on a comprehensive interview.

CANCELLATION AND REFUND RIGHTS

The student has the right to cancel the enrollment agreement and obtain a refund of charges paid through attendance at the first class session, or the seventh day after enrollment, whichever is later.

It will be the policy of Top Gun PDR Training to provide a 60% pro rata refund to students who withdraw or otherwise fail to complete a program of instruction. This means that, assuming a student has prepaid for the instruction, a percentage of all paid tuition will be refunded if the student has completed less than 60% of a program. After the student completes 60% of a program, there will be no refund.

a 100% refund will be granted. In fact, a 100% refund will be granted up to and through midnight of the day after the first day of instruction. All refunds will be made, as required, within thirty days following the date upon which the student's withdrawal has been determined.

This method of calculating a refund will be followed as required by the State of California.

1. Deduct a registration fee not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) from the total tuition charge.
2. Divide this figure by the number of hours in the program.
3. The quotient is the hourly charge for the program.
4. The amount owed by the student for the purposes of calculating a refund is derived by multiplying the total hours attended by the hourly charge for instruction plus the amount of the registration fee specified in paragraph (1).
5. The refund shall be any amount in excess of the figure derived in paragraph (4) that was paid by the student.

Here is a sample calculation of a refund for a student in a Beginning PDR Training Program who decides to withdraw after four days of instruction. The student has paid the entire cost of the program ($6,700):

1. The tuition for the program is $6,700. There is no application or registration fee.
2. There are 84 hours in the program. Therefore, $6,300 divided by 84 equals an hourly charge of $79.76.
3. The quotient or hourly charge is $79.76.

4. Four days of instruction equals 32 hours (4 X 8 hrs. = 32 hours). This is the equivalent of (32 X $79.76) which equals $2,400. The student has received $2,552.32 of instruction.
5. The refund to the student will be ($6,700 - $2552.32) or $3147.68. The student would be entitled to a refund up to completion of approximately 50 hours of instruction (the 60% point).

THE STUDENT TUITION RECOVERY FUND (STRF)

It is a state requirement that a student who pays his or her tuition is required to pay a state-imposed assessment for the Student Tuition Recovery Fund.

"You must pay the state-imposed assessment for the Student Tuition Recovery Fund (STRF) if all of the following applies to you: □1. You are a student in an educational program, who is a California resident, or are enrolled in a residency program, and prepay all or part of your tuition either by cash, guaranteed student loans, or personal loans, and □2. Your total charges are not paid by any third-party payer such as an employer, government program or other payer unless you have a separate agreement to repay the third party. □You are not eligible for protection from the STRF and you are not required to pay the STRF assessment, if either of the following applies: □1. You are not a California resident, or are not enrolled in a residency program, or □2. Your total charges are paid by a third party, such as an employer, government program or other payer, and you have no separate agreement to repay the third party."

The State of California created the Student Tuition Recovery Fund (STRF) to relieve or mitigate economic losses suffered by students in educational programs who are California residents, or are enrolled in a residency programs attending certain schools regulated by the Bureau for Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education. □You may be eligible for STRF if you are a California resident or are enrolled in a residency program, prepaid tuition, paid the STRF assessment, and suffered an economic loss as a result of any of the following: □1. The school closed before the course of instruction was completed. □2. The school's failure to pay refunds or charges on behalf of a student to a third party for license fees or any other purpose, or to provide equipment or materials for which a charge was collected within 180 days before the closure of the school. □3. The school's failure to pay or reimburse loan proceeds under a federally guaranteed student loan program as required by law or to pay or reimburse proceeds received by the school prior to closure in excess of tuition and other costs. □4. There was a material failure to comply with the Act or this Division within 30 days before the school closed or, if the material failure began earlier than 30 days prior to closure, the period determined by the Bureau. □5. An inability after diligent efforts to prosecute, prove, and collect on a judgment against the institution for a violation of the Act." □However, no claim can be paid to any student without a social security number or a taxpayer identification number. □Note: Authority cited: Sections 94803, 94877 and 94923, Education Code. Reference: Section 94923, Education Code.

A minor percentage of student tuition will be set aside for the state mandated STRF fee. The current fee level is approximately $7.50 for the Advanced Program and $17.50 for the Beginning Program per student. This required fee will not be paid by the student through a separate or additional charge or assessment, but rather taken from the tuition payment. Further information on this fee is provided in the enrollment agreement.

ADMISSIONS

Top Gun PDR Training will not require applicants to have a high school diploma or its equivalent (GED or State Proficiency Certificate). TopGun PDR Training has not entered into an articulation or transfer agreement with any other school, college or university.

The nature of this work does not lend or limit itself to a high school graduation or equivalent requirement. What is perhaps most critical is well above average hand-eye coordination.

Top Gun PDR Training asks that potential students obtain an ophthalmology exam at least two weeks before training to provide ample time to correct any vision problems found. Certain eye problems are not correctable, so it becomes important to know if there may be eye conditions that would hinder one's ability to operate in a trade like PDR.

Vision that is correctable to 20/20 is a requirement, as is the ability to distinguish between minute shades of light and dark. Any astigmatism should be completely correctable. Many PDR techs in this field are surprised to learn that they have had a previously undiagnosed eye condition such as a slight astigmatism, photophobia, UV damage, focusing issues, or other common problems. PDR work is demanding and exacting. It requires perfect vision, or vision that is correctable to reflect perfect vision.

Top Gun PDR Training simply requires a large notebook for taking extensive notes; the student's favorite 10 to 12 tools; a copy of a recent ophthalmologist's eye exam results, and corrective lenses or contacts if needed; and a good "teachable" attitude and willingness to work hard and concentrate...which is typically determined through the initial interview conducted by the owner/instructor.

Top Gun PDR Training provides the basic tools necessary for training purposes. But often a student interested in this vocation will have their own preferred tools.

Since individual backgrounds vary greatly, applicants are assessed on a case-by-case basis. Top Gun PDR Training will carefully interview each applicant to determine whether they possess the necessary motivation and ability to benefit from the proposed program of study as well as to verify that all admissions requirements have been met.

ENTRANCE TESTING

Top Gun PDR Training currently does not require entrance testing per se. As described in the Admissions Section, Top Gun requires recently documented visual acuity, demonstrated and skilled hand/eye coordination, and success through a specific interview process designed to determine the student potential for success in this training.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students must maintain successful attendance. This is defined as missing no more than 8 hours in the normal course of instruction, in both the Beginning and Advanced PDR programs, and making up those 8 hours (or actual hours and instruction missed) within a reasonable timeframe in order to satisfactorily complete the course. Therefore students must ultimately complete all scheduled instruction in order to complete requirements.

ASSESSMENT AND GRADING

Students at Top Gun PDR Training will not be graded in a traditional sense. Program offerings are conducted on a Pass/Fail basis.

In order to maintain satisfactory progress as established by Top Gun PDR Training, a student must maintain attendance, perform satisfactorily throughout the program, and meet the minimum criteria established for completing the program.

Students completing a prescribed program of training and who have maintained satisfactory progress will be able to graduate and receive a diploma attesting to the successful completion of training.

To be eligible to graduate and receive a diploma a student must have completed all instruction and met all training and financial obligations.

Requirements for completion include performing dent, body line dent, and crease removal satisfactorily. Students must be able to demonstrate an acceptable quality of repair at a retail level, that is to say acceptable work sufficient that a reasonable customer would willingly pay. The work must demonstrate the capacity and ability to take out a #2 medium size dent, a two inch average depth crease, one body line standard dent, and a crease dent to the satisfaction of the instructor.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

The mode of instruction at Top Gun PDR Training is typically one-to-one; the ratio of instructors to students is 1:1. In this setting instruction is highly individualized and communication is constant. Therefore, students regularly receive direct feedback concerning their ongoing and overall performance.

The instructor typically provides the student with his evaluation of their performance within the first two hours of instruction, sufficient to inform the student whether continued instruction will be worthwhile for the student at that stage of the student's progress.

If at anytime within the first day of instruction the instructor's evaluation does not support continuing in good faith, he will so inform the student, and the student will receive a 100% refund at that point.

Documentation of student progress will be recorded and maintained in the student file on a regular basis by the instructor.

TARDINESS

Top Gun PDR Training is a serious training program designed to maximize every moment of instruction and interaction between student and instructor. The instructor takes the program of instruction very seriously, and it is expected that the student will do so as well. At the same time that students benefit from the highly individualized instruction, the success of the program as well as the student is dependent on maximizing the demanding skills learned and applied during the course of instruction.

Therefore, students will be permitted no more than three instances of excessive tardiness prior to being subject to dismissal from the program. Excessive tardiness is defined as more than three instances during the course of instruction when the student is more than 15 minutes late at either the commencement of the class in the morning or in the afternoon.

Students will receive a warning and reminder of this policy after each of the first three instances of excessive tardiness. Top Gun PDR Training will reserve the right to dismiss a student for excessive tardiness.

The instructor will determine what constitutes a valid excuse for tardiness. The general rule will be whether a reasonable person in similar circumstances would be in a position to arrive ready for instruction at the appointed time.

PROBATION AND DISMISSAL POLICIES

Top Gun PDR Training reserves the right to suspend or terminate any student whose conduct is deemed inappropriate. Such conduct includes: excessive absences or tardiness; inappropriate behavior toward another student or staff member or person; failure to abide by school rules and regulations; any other conduct deemed sufficiently disruptive of instruction so that, in the estimation of the instructor, continued instruction is not a reasonable or constructive proposition.

Students who have been suspended or terminated may request reinstatement in writing to the Director after a probation period of thirty days.

DROPOUT AND LEAVE OF ABSENCE POLICY

Students may initially request orally or in writing to drop out of the program or to receive a grant of a leave of absence for sufficient reasons as determined by the instructor. If such a request is communicated orally, it shall be requested in writing prior to approval by the instructor. This will be for the purpose of documenting the student record.

Re-admission to the program will be at the sole discretion and under conditions determined as appropriate and necessary by the instructor. The primary governing factor for re-admission will be the passage of time since the student was last in the program, and the instructor's estimate of student progress and capability, and the satisfaction of financial requirements.

Under no conditions will a student be permitted a leave of absence for more than a three month period. If a student needs to discontinue the program of instruction for a period of more than three months, the student will receive a refund of paid tuition according to the refund policy and must thereafter be readmitted to the program.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Top Gun PDR Training will not provide ESL instruction. All instruction will be in English.

In the relatively rare instance where a potential student's English ability is questionable, Top Gun PDR Training will require the student to take and pass a TOEFL test and present documentation of passing the test with a minimum score of at least 450, or at least the publisher's minimum required score for the testing of the particular student. If the TOEFL score is 450 or higher, they will qualify for enrollment.

STUDENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

Top Gun PDR Training is a small school with a single owner/Director/instructor. This is, in fact, a primary benefit of the school, as instruction is by design and preference one-to-one, almost as an artisan to an apprentice.

However, it is recognized that, even with the highly individualized instruction, a dispute may arise with respect to the instruction or a school policy or practice that a student perceives as unfair or damaging to the student.

A student may lodge a complaint orally or in writing to the instructor at the address of the school. The instructor, upon receipt of a complaint, will attempt to resolve the issue(s) directly with the student.

If the student complaint is not resolved within a reasonable period of time, for example within three days, or prior to the need for the student to lodge the complaint again, the instructor will advise the student that the complaint must be provided in writing if it hasn't been already. At that point, the instructor will provide the student with a written summary of the official complaint policy, as described in this catalog.

If a student complains in writing, Top Gun PDR Training will provide the student with a written response within ten days of receipt of the student complaint. The written response will include a summary of the school investigation and disposition of the complaint. If the complaint or relief requested by the student is rejected, specific reasons will be given for the rejection.

If the student remains dissatisfied with the rejection or proposed remedy provided by the school, they may resort to contacting the Bureau at the address provided on their enrollment agreement or take other legal and appropriate action as dictated by the circumstances.
