These graduate placement rates may include entry level jobs that pay entry level wages. After graduating from our school, you may obtain an entry level job that pays entry level wages. We cannot predict the position a graduate might eventually attain or the income a graduate might eventually earn.

Academy of Truck Driving graduates who obtain employment after graduation typically start in entry level positions and should expect to earn salaries at the lower end of the hourly range. Employment, career advancement, income, and the success or satisfaction of an individual student are not guaranteed and depend upon the local and national economy, the industry at the time, the graduate's abilities, efforts and prior experience, and a variety of other factors. We recommend that you conduct your own due diligence in the local job markets in which you anticipate applying to determine the salaries and opportunities available to graduates on entry into the field and as they advance in their careers.

If you have any questions about how the data reflected on the above charts was gathered or if you want a list of employment positions determined to be within the field for any specific program for which statistics are reported above, please speak with the Enrollment Representative.

This fact sheet is filed with the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education. Regardless of any information you may have relating to completion rates, placement rates, starting salaries, or license exam passage rates, this fact sheet contains the information as calculated pursuant to state law.

Any questions a student may have regarding this fact sheet that have not been satisfactorily answered by the institution may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education at: P.O. These graduate placement rates may include entry level jobs that pay entry level wages. After graduating from our school, you may obtain an entry level job that pays entry level wages. We cannot predict the position a graduate might eventually attain or the income a graduate might eventually earn.

Academy of Truck Driving graduates who obtain employment after graduation typically start in entry level positions and should expect to earn salaries at the lower end of the hourly range. Employment, career advancement, income, and the success or satisfaction of an individual student are not guaranteed and depend upon the local and national economy, the industry at the time, the graduate's abilities, efforts and prior experience, and a variety of other factors. We recommend that you conduct your own due diligence in the local job markets in which you anticipate applying to determine the salaries and opportunities available to graduates on entry into the field and as they advance in their careers.

If you have any questions about how the data reflected on the above charts was gathered or if you want a list of employment positions determined to be within the field for any specific program for which statistics are reported above, please speak with the Enrollment Representative.

This fact sheet is filed with the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education. Regardless of any information you may have relating to completion rates, placement rates, starting salaries, or license exam passage rates, this fact sheet contains the information as calculated pursuant to state law.

Any questions a student may have regarding this fact sheet that have not been satisfactorily answered by the institution may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education at: P.O.
